

Professional Training to support Environmental Sustainability in the Construction Industry.

ISYS

IEMA FOUNDATION CERTIFICATE IN ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT FOR THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

This four-day modular course is offered in-house for a maximum of 16 delegates and provides a recognised professional qualification in Environmental Management. It also forms the basis to apply for IEMA Affiliate Membership.

Companies running this course with ISYS create a team of 'champions' within their business who understand construction's environmental challenges and can assist in gaining a competitive advantage to meet modern client demands for sustainability in construction.

SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION ENABLES DELEGATES TO:

- Recognise environmental impacts and risks associated with construction
- Appreciate how effective environmental management can reduce risks
- Recognise prevailing UK environmental legislation applicable to construction
- Apply techniques to measure and evaluate environmental performance
- Co-ordinate and maintain an environmental management system to ISO 14001 standards

COMPANIES ENCOURAGE STAFF TO TAKE THE IEMA FOUNDATION CERTIFICATE COURSE TO:

- Help reduce liability and support legal and regulatory environmental compliance
- Identify bottom-line benefits through resource efficiency and reduced waste costs
- Demonstrate serious environmental commitment to clients and all stakeholders
- Understand and respond to client contractual requirements for environmental protection
- Meet ISO 14001 environmental management standard requirements

WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM ATTENDING?

Construction company managerial staff responsible for business improvement: directors, departmental heads, managers, line managers, plus project and team leaders.

OPTIONS

The course is run in-house, but a limited number of spring and autumn public sessions are offered in the UK regions at a cost per delegate of £950, plus VAT. This is recommended if fewer than four delegates require training. ISYS will be pleased to provide details of future public courses.

OUTLINE OF THE IEMA FOUNDATION CERTIFICATE COURSE

The Foundation Certificate Course - certified by the Institute of Environmental Management and Assessment (IEMA) - is presented by ISYS International to give delegates an introduction to environmental concepts and their relevance to business and construction.

The programme includes a discussion of key environmental management issues, full course notes, practical group work based on a construction case-study and an IEMA certified examination.

COST - £3,750, plus VAT, plus £95 application fee to IEMA for each delegate requiring IEMA Affiliate Membership (but excluding venue and refreshments costs, tutor expenses and delegate accommodation).
